50 Prisoners Moved From the Firetrap; 887 in Peril; Holmes Fights Move

That Charleston prison is a fire hazard, Finigan replied: "I described it as an inadequate and fire hazard. I am not criticizing any particular individual for the conditions. The fact remains that they exist. Whose responsibility is it to know?"

Others back him. Urging speed in completing the Norfolk prison, Finigan pointed out that although the work was started there in 1927, only the wall and the building have been completed.

"It is true," he said, "that men in Charleston are convicts, but many of them are coming back to society and we should not permit their prison environment to adversely affect their lives." Representative Finigan was supported in his plea before the committee by Representatives Thomas F. Carroll of Nevada, Lewis F. Sullivan, Jr., of New York, James J. Twombly of South Boston and Anthony A. McNulty of Roxbury.

"We should not condemn the prisoners of Charleston to death or destruction so far as health is concerned in this palpable fire hazard," said Representative Carroll. "These men should be given a chance for their lives."

"It is about it were get rid of Charleston prison," said Representative Sullivan. "We are 35 years behind the times. It is a fire hazard. So far as the new prison at Norfolk is concerned, we should use civilian labor in its construction and relieve unemployment besides speeding up the completion of the prison."

Rep. Twombly blamed the Commonwealth for conditions at a dungeon. "I have visited Charleston many times," said Twombly. "I am not worried so much about the fire hazard as I am about the degrading environment of this antiquated building. The place is overcrowded now. With the new prison, we have 665 prisoners here one day. With the new judges handling out long term sentences, we will be in a short time before conditions will be beyond control."

The state should be humane enough to build a place for prisoners that will hold up to the mental and physical regeneration. Admitting that there are 887 prisoners at Charleston with 800 cells each housing one inmate in the Cherry Hill section 23 cells in which there are two men each. E. C. H. Bagley, deputy commissioner of correction, asserted that there is no greater fire hazard in Charleston prison than in any other institution in the country.

Commissioner in Conference With Civil Service Chief; Starts Drive on Burglars

Another shakeup in Boston's police department was forecast following a conference at the State House between Police Commissioner Eugene C. Hultman and Civil Service Commissioner Elliot M. Goodwin.

While Hultman denied that his visit had anything to do with contemplated changes in the department, it is well known that he is an advocate of a plan whereby officers in municipal positions shall not be older men.

The present maximum limit of 35 years of age on civil service examinations for policemen and firemen is believed by both men to bring about a situation whereby important positions are not filled by men who are near the age of retirement.

At the conference Hultman had nothing to say of this phase of the subject. He said after it that, since his position was new to him and since it was in close contact with the civil service, he could not with Commissioner Goodwin to secure information necessary for him in his relations with the men under him.

Without relinquishing his efforts to rid Boston of its speakspieces and one woman in connection with these break, the commissioner issued special instructions in general orders to each of the division captains.

The captains were ordered to instruct each patrolman to call at each store on his route and to request the proprietor to place his safe containing valuables in plain view of the street and to illuminate all space about strong boxes. Each night patrolman is instructed to report all cases where conditions do not prevail, such reports to be forwarded to police headquarters.

$5,000,000 Plane Base

Wilmington, May 15.—Construction of the new $5,000,000 airplane base at Camp Kearney, near San Diego, Calif., was advocated by Rear Admiral John V. Chase before the House naval affairs committee yesterday.

16 YALE MEN ARE

DRIVEN FROM DORMITORY BECAUSE OF DISORDER IN ROOMS

New Haven, May 15 (AP).—Thirteen students in Yale College today found themselves suspended from restitutions for the remainder of the college year, by order of Dean Charles W. Merrill as an outcome of the student disturbance last Thursday night.

The disciplinary notice also deprived 16 students of the privilege to live in a college dormitory next year "because of the disorder in their rooms" that same night. Action by Dean Merrill was forecast as his inquiry into the disturbance progressed, but the number of students who were to be disciplined was not known until a formal statement was issued.

In part this said: "Much of the disorder in these rooms was due to intrusion by other rooms with the result that some apartment buildings in being done. At the same time, occupants of rooms are responsible for order of the rooms and failing knowledge of the actual disturbances of peace who protected themselves by using other men's rooms the consequences fall in some cases upon those less culpable."

In the case of suspensions the dean said: "In the case of many of these men as with the others, responsibility lies largely upon the shoulders of other men who themselves were guilty."

Spurred by the 20 safe-breaks in the last 10 days in various sections of the city, most of them successful, which were reported by the criminal, and on the heels of the arrest yesterday of four men and one woman in connection with these break, the commissioner issued special instructions in general orders to each of the division captains.

The captains were ordered to instruct each patrolman to call at each store on his route and to request the proprietor to place his safe containing valuables in plain view of the street and to illuminate all space about strong boxes. Each night patrolman is instructed to report all cases where conditions do not prevail, such reports to be forwarded to police headquarters.

The active pathfinders included Gen. John H. Dunn, Michael Cullen, Edward L. Hopkins, Deputy Fire Chief Walter McLean, John J. Flanagan, Maj. William J. Casey, and Commander James J. Doyle and ex-Armstrong Hugh Brennan.

Major Curley led a large delegation of officers and Boston business men to the funeral of Timothy E. McCarthy, past exalted ruler of Boston Lodge, 314 in the Church of St. Ambrose, Dorchester.

A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. John H. Dunn, pastor of the church, and by the Rev. William L. Gross and the Rev. Joseph A. Morrissey as deacon and sub-deacon, respectively. The Rev. Peter Conlon of St. Leo's Church, Dorchester, was master of ceremonies.

WITH the last bluish tinge, confidence returns. More friends, more invitations—more good times. With the joy and pride of possessing a clear skin, self-respect increases. Pimples and spots are not soon forgotten. Old friends may exclaim and secretly sympathize, but new acquaintances may not be so charitable. Skin blemishes are not inviting. Neither can they be covered up. They embarrass. Hold people back. Steal away joy and happiness.

A lovely, clear skin is within the reach of all. To you who have lost it, hope is offered, that you, too, may have a beautiful skin, rose-petal in texture, pretty as a picture and without a single blemish.

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of skin eruptions as being an indication that the body's power of resistance is low.

The natural way to remedy this condition is to restore the red-blood-cells to normal.

This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful skin annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

S.S.S. helps Nature restore the blood to its normal state. Healthy blood nourishes the body and works against infection and disease.

Without plenty of rich, red blood there would be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or healthy, beautiful women.

SPEEDY PLANE SEASION AT HUB AIRPORT

By GEORGE HAMILIN

The second day in light commercial speed trials arrived at Boston Airport today, when a Davis monoplane, piloted by a 100-year-old man, was seen in the air. The plane, owned by the Davis family, was piloted by the late pilot of the famous "Red Bull" of the Rhode Island, and was seen in the air today.

Flashing out of the sky, the small two-place monoplane started its first attempts with its speed, and after banking it, it was in a climbing turn before leaving off the landing.

The ship was brought here upon the request of Walter Rogers, head of the New England district of the American Line, who is in charge of the ship's operations. The ship is expected to leave for New York City tomorrow.

When any new plane arrives at the Boston Airport, it is immediately surrounded by the attaches of the field, and various pilots are seen to be in the air. The ship is expected to leave for New York City tomorrow.

Before granting any of the boys the thrill of flying the little biplane, they must first be able to handle it. The ship is expected to leave for New York City tomorrow.

After the ship was brought here upon the request of Walter Rogers, head of the New England district of the American Line, who is in charge of the ship's operations. The ship is expected to leave for New York City tomorrow.

Britannic Will Pick Up 500 in Hub

Big Group Booked for Maiden Voyage of Largest Cabin Ship

Five hundred Bostonians are planning to embark for Europe on July 13 on the maiden trip of the Britannic, largest cabin ship in the world.

Among those who have made reservations are about 100 members of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, a group of 100 from the Hub, and a group of 100 from the city.

The ship was brought here upon the request of Walter Rogers, head of the New England district of the American Line, who is in charge of the ship's operations. The ship is expected to leave for New York City tomorrow.

DAILY ANTIQUE No. 96

Here is a Chippendale chest, made in New England in the 18th century, in excellent condition, and, in fact, it owes more to America, perhaps, than to the mother country. The first along the top is suggestive of Chippendale's Chinese designs. The block front, however, is distinctly an American contribution, as is the Goddard half-shell motif in the decorative design.

The chest is to be seen in the 18th century furniture galleries of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. In connection with the Massachusetts Tercentenary Year, the Boston Evening American is publishing daily photographs of interesting antiques. Owners of genuine antiques, particularly of Colonial or early American origin or of historic association are invited to forward photographs and records for publication. If a photograph is not available, the American will send a cameraman to photograph the antique, provided the owner lives in Greater Boston. Send the "Antique Editor," 3 Winthrop sq., Boston.

448 Towns in N. E. Have No Doctors

That 448 New England towns have no doctors is being advertised through the medium of 300 billboards on main highways. The advertising is in the interest of the New England Medical Center and its campaign to raise $100,000 before June.

The Boston Dispensary and the Floating Hospital are the institutions that will affiliate to form the New England Medical Center.

Capes Continue to Animate Spring Mode

From Paris Bureau, Boston Evening American.

Paris, May 13.
THE CAPE continues to jut out in the sea of fashion. Just now it is ever so much liked to give line and animation to plain frocks that find their charm in line and design rather than in rich fabrics and lavish trimming. Such little frocks with jaunty caped bodices are seen in increasing frequency now that the weather is more benign and spring-like. The smart Parisienne is quite addicted to the easy little frock that carries so much chic and dash in its slim folds.

This season, crepe de chine of rather a heavy quality is used to make the little frock that strikes a note midway between the severely tailored frock and the very feminine models so much to the fore at present. The frock is cut on simple lines, and so the cape gives softness as well as animation to such models. These frocks, generally of black or deep blue, are usually finished with pique touches, in white, of course.

We have just discovered, at the showrooms of Paquin, a clever compromise between the tiny little evening wrap and the quite long model, and thinking that it might interest you as much as it has us, we have had it sketched for you. It has a single, very long coat-tail in back and is quite short in front.

Shirred insets give a slightly draped effect at each side and similar insets lend a flaring line to the long shaped sleeves. The plain bodice is in silver floss and the collar is of silver floss. The woman who is searching for that difficult-to-obtain, something different, may find this wrap an answer to her problem.

The afternoon frock of dark blue crepe de chine is by Tollyman. Over the plain bodice is a rounding, deep cape reaching the waistline. Circular flounce finishes sleeves. (Sketched in Paris.)

B. C. Elects Class Officers for 1931

The Student's Athletic Association elected John D. MacLean, president; Joseph Sullivan, vice-president; John Casper, secretary.

Middleton, Ct., May 15 (AP)—Students of Wesleyan University are opposed to change of name of their alma mater, a student survey shows, as only 54 out of 506 voted "yes." The proposal for a change of name was due in part to the fact that the name "Wesleyan" is a part of the title.

Tercentenary Draws Ancient Turtle Out of the Mud

Haverhill, May 13.—Jealous of all this business, an ancient turtle came out of the mud today and paraded along the highway in South Groveland.

The date 1793 was carved on the turtle's back, when William T. Shannon found and took it in charge.

After many school children and grown-ups had viewed the turtle, Shannon placed it back in Groveland mill pond, from where it is believed to have come.

TAYLOR ACTS TO RELIEVE 40 FAMILIES SUFFERING WATER FAMINE

LANDLADY TO FACE TRIAL IN CASE

Hyde Park Woman Is Said to Be Nearly $500 in Arrears on City Bill

With water shut off because of failure of her landlady to pay her bills, 30 Hyde Park families, including 52 children, were given relief by Mayor James M. Curley today.

Mayor Curley, learning of the action of the water division, ordered that a tenant be instructed to file a complaint against Mrs. Eva Mendelsohn in an arrest approximately $500 on water bills for property she owns at 5, 7 and 14 Boston st., and 7 and 15 Walnut st., Hyde Park.

They declared she had been given every chance to pay and had made frequent promises which she failed to fulfill.

When Mayor Curley learned the water had been shut off in the houses, he telephoned the water division and ordered that a man be sent to get a tenant to file the complaint. If a tenant could not be induced to take this action he instructed the water division to have a warrant do it, with the aim of getting Mrs. Mendelsohn into court as soon as the complaint was made, he added, the water would be turned on, this being the modern method of handling such cases.

Before the city order went into effect to shut off the water, the tenants were given notice and they drew all the water they various pots and pans would allow.

SUPPLY SOON GONE.

That was especially used up, however, and soon they were as "dry" as if they had not been warned. Among the affected are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sheridan and Mrs. Gabriel McDougall and 15-month-old baby, Mr. and Mrs. Connelley and one child, Mr. and Mrs. O'Toole, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murphy and three children, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burnham and three children.

SEVEN MORE FAMILIES. In the building numbered 5, 7 and 14 Station st., are seven families with children; Mr. and Mrs. John Egan and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hezron and five children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gammons and four children, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tinkham and one child, and three families with 14 children.

HEAL A ROW IN SCHOOL BANDS MALDEN AIRD

With funds on hand to pay the salaries of its two inspectors only sufficient for the balance of the current month and with an investigation into health affairs in Malden by the State Department of Health in progress, Councilman James P. Maher has prepared an order demanding of Mayor William A. Hastings that he recommend to the City Council sufficient funds to continue the two men in office.

The controversy between the Hastings and the board of health has been widely aired and the board of health chairman, Dr. C. C. Burpee, charges "the city is difficult to pre-select in its feeling between the mayor and the board of health."

Councilman Maher points out in his order that the board of health has the power to spend all the money it needs without regard to the mayor's recommendations. He also points out that the board of health is to secure payment for its services in time for personal annuities to cease.

The inspectors affected by the mayor's budget cut are William W. Wainwright and Edward J. Connelley. Both are married men with families.

Lavours Wanted for Larceny in Salem

Salem police learned today that George Lavours who has been arrested at Los Angeles, charged with larceny from several prominent Salem stores, formally lived in Salem and he wanted for recovery of $5000 from several women.

Following complaints lodged at Salem police headquarters against the man, Inspector Patrick J. Lohan was assigned to the case, and he learned that Lavours was formerly a resident of New Jersey, but disappeared two months ago. Lohan police say when he was in this city he posed as a mind reader and had a large practice among women. Arthur Hottelick, later on, positively identified the man from his photograph in the Boston Evening American.

CURLEY FLAYS MOVE TO BLOCK WARE RIVER

Tells Senate Bill to Forbid Diversion From Connecticut River Is Unjust

Virulent protest was made to the U. S. Senate today by Mayor Curley today against an amendment introduced by Senator Watson of Connecticut to forbid by law the diversion of water from the Connecticut river or its tributaries.

"The obvious purpose of this amendment to the rivers and harbor bill is to prevent the city of Boston from taking an absolutely essential supply of pure drinking water from the Ware and Swift rivers, tributaries of the Connecticut lying wholly within the Commonwealth of Massachusetts," the mayor wrote.

"The population of metropolitan Boston is nearly 1,500,000. It is fast outgrowing its present water supply and unless an additional supply is obtained by 1931, water will be obtained by the diversion of water from the Connecticut river or its tributaries."

"It is my understanding that the appropriate officials of the War Department have passed upon the proposed Boston water supply diversion and have found it will not adversely affect navigation upon the Connecticut river as it now exists."

"Connecticut has brought a suit in the Supreme Court of the United States in an attempt to enjoin the pending project. That suit has been heard at length before a master appointed by the Supreme Court, who, at 298, has not rendered a decision."

This latest attempt of Connecticut to obtain action on the subject in dispute in the Supreme Court indicates a lack of confidence in the justice of their case which should lead the congress to be exceedingly slow in legislating upon a matter already the subject of judicial inquiry."

What a job Miss Elizabeth Brakenhoff has with the Boston Elevated Lines. It's her business to see that the vision and reaction of the men who man the "El" cars are right up to high standards. Here you see her taking notes as Frank Trischitta, motorman, goes through the vision test. In portion of the test shown above, the candidate rests chin in socket, so that he must look straight ahead. He must see farthest lights in semicircle to be fit for service. (Staff photo.)

PRICES MARKET

STANDARD OIL MARKET

New York, May 15.—The stock market settled down to a lower level of prices in sluggish trading today.

A few buyers in wheat, who saw a thin market as provided here sharply, but leading wheat generally lost little more than 2 points or 3.

Neither long nor short positions in the market have worked out very profitably of late, and traders were disposed to await developments sufficiently definite to be used as a starting point for a new move.

With moderate signs of improvement in freight traffic, steel, coal, and bank accounts have been cautious, but bulls have failed to attract any notable follow in bidding up stocks.

ATTENTION ON LOANS

Speculative attention is focused on the Federal Reserve bank's loan and condition statements, to appear after the close of the market, and this also served to hold operations.

While the rally in prices over the past week was due to a substantial gain in loans, however, liquidation of weakly held stock on credit accounts caused a further reduction in the bid, even after selling moment had definitely ended, and the market turned quiet.

A conspicuous item in the day's news was the reduction of the American Locomotive annual dividend from $5.50 to $4, but this had been an general expectation and it was without reflection in the market.

Standard Oil of New Jersey annual report, showing $475 a share against $430 in 1919, and a middle estimate summary of conditions in the industry by W. C. Tighe, president, failed to stir up renewed enthusiasm for the oil.

Some of the Eastern utilities were firm in reaction to the rumors of new alignments. United Corp. was said to have made an offer more attractive, after the block of Columbia Gas stock than the one rumored a few days ago.

ATLANTA IN WEAK

Auburn Auto was an actively weak stock, dropping nearly 10 points to a new low for the year since 1910, and more than 100 points below the 1920 peak. Bears evidently angled out for a new low.

Not excellent news, on the basis of the prospect of increasing competition from other manufacturers, who are planning more extensive plants.
